

Dr. Lorena Lloret Nadal LV, MS, CTCVMP, CVBM obtained her degree in Veterinary Medicine from the University of Murcia, Spain, in 2002.

From 2002 she obtained several Certificates in Veterinary acupuncture (ABVA and Chi Institute), Veterinary Chinese Herbal Medicine, Veterinary Food Therapy, Veterinary Tui-Na practitioner, Veterinary Chiropractic, Veterinary Balance Method Acupuncture. She did internship in Florida -USA with Dr. Huisheng Xie PhD, Chiang Mai -Thailand and Lanzhou-China. She is Master Science on TCVM on Electrical acupuncture and acupuncture use for dogs undergoing TTA and TWO surgeries , granted by WATCVM and AEMVTC .

Experienced TCVM speaker worldwide along the United States, China, Taiwan, South Africa, plus European countries like Denmark, Spain, Portugal, Italy, France, UK...

Awarded as senior lecturer at the International Veterinary College (Shanghai), she was also speaker and lab leader at the Chi University China in collaboration with the University of Hebei (China).

Founding member and director of the Chi Institute of Europe since 2008, Chi Europe is the European branch of the College of TCVM Chi University in Florida, USA dedicated to veterinary graduate training on TCVM since 1998.

From 2021 Dr, Lloret become CEO at Chi University along Europe, teaching vets in TCVM in 8 European countries: Spain, Italy, England, France, Switzerland, Belgium, Norway and Romania. Chi University will offer in 2023 a CVA in Ireland as well for all vets interested in Veterinary Acupuncture.

Dr. Lorena has published numerous articles, papers and co-authored books about TCVM in different countries (Spain, EEUU, China) also been editor chief of the Spanish translation of the reference book "TCVM Fundamental Principals " into Spanish . Her article on the integrative use of EA as an anesthetic agent in routine surgical procedures has been published by the prestigious American Journal of TCVM and is a reference for integrative veterinarians worldwide.

She is part of the Board of Directors of the World Association of MVTC (WATCVM), and co-director of the Council of Curriculum Education of this same association.

Co-founder and president of the Spanish Association of TCVM (AEMVTC) since 2013.

About her clinical experience, in 2003 she developed her own locum TCVM veterinarian service for small animal and horses in UK; along with years of volunteering experience in exotic and wild.

In 2006 she moved back to Spain and start to offer her services on different veterinary clinics.

From December 2014, Dr. Lorena was the chief service of the acupuncture and Integrative Veterinary Chinese Medicine service of the University Veterinary Teaching Hospital of the Alfonso X University of Madrid (HCV-UAX) where she offered clinical integrative service for both horses and small animals in cooperation with the rest of services of the Hospital.

From January 2022, Dr. Lorena moved with her family to Ireland and she runs the Integrative veterinary Medicine service at www.vetspecialists.ie for small animals. She is the co-director of EuroChi for Vets Ltd in Ireland, serving vets and animals for the best of TCVM. She offers online counselling for the Integrative vets and visiting internships on TCVM along Europe (only for veterinarians)

From February 2022, motivated by her endless passion and love for horses, she opened the dedicated and exclusive service for horses on EuroChi for Horses: *The Integrative Veterinary Horse Care, focused on TCVM Integrative, reaching where Western Medicine stops.